Forget About Hair Removal Forever

Seven years ago, Ryan Bloch took the entrepreneurial leap. "Medical spas were in their infancy," he reports. "I founded Laser Cosmetics with the goal of affiliating with the best plastic surgeons and to identify the most advanced and effective laser hair removal treatments."

Since then, Laser Cosmetics has stayed on the leading-edge of technology and training. "We are what a laser spa should be," says Bloch. "We are a modern environment offering a full panoply of painless, safe laser services and skin rejuvenation from a staff of veterans." There are eight Laser Cosmetics locations in the metro area, with the newest clinic on W. 23rd Street, the crown-jewel.

laser is completely safe for tanned skin. "Consumers think you can't do laser hair removal on tanned skin," says Bloch. "Which is only true if you don't have the right technology."

Today, people with dark skin or tanned skin can both enjoy safe laser hair removal thanks to recent advances in laser available on the market.

Bloch emphasized that although many people are cutting back on luxury services, laser hair removal is actually a long-term investment. "It's economical because it's permanent," he notes. "You'll never have to pay a waxer again."

Laser Cosmetics uses a variety of different lasers so that they are able to treat every skin type and tone.
